A Mediator will only be helpful for feedback removal if you think you and the other party will be able to negotiate and agree to the removal.

To request a mediator, login to your case page and click on "Bring in a SquareTrade Mediator." See our Mediation FAQ for more information.

If you don't need feedback removal or are not yet sure about whether to use a Mediator

I understand now that the chair probably smelled when I sent it, however, I was unaware of this problem and did not knowingly sell a musty chair. When something is sold "as is," the buyer is taking a risk on what is received. Unfortunately I really don't feel that there is anything I can do for Stephanie. I understand that the chair was sold "as is," but I believe that the seller should have let me know if there was anything unusual (like a musty smell) about the chair. I asked this question prior to placing my bid and she said there wasn't anything unusual about the chair's condition.

The other Realtor in this case is mistaken. My brother-in-law, Terrence Hasslet, referred the client to me prior to our meeting. Terrence can be reached to clarify this at 415-998-8989.

Please provide your CONFIDENTIAL settlement position for the Mediator.

This information WILL NOT be shared with the other party unless you specifically state otherwise.

I am willing however to negotiate a reasonable settlement to get this over with.

Buy and Sell with Confidence

eBay is committed to making your trading experience safe, enjoyable and easy. Whether you're a buyer or a seller, you're assured of being able to make informed decisions with confidence and trust. This page outlines how you can make sensible trading choices through eBay's feedback system, trust and safety assurances and openly available information and tools.

Your reputation — eBay Feedback ★

In the spirit of providing openly-available information, eBay members can leave feedback about their buyers or sellers by commenting on a transaction. This feedback is posted on your feedback scorecard. Your feedback profile is a key indicator of your eBay reputation. Learn more about eBay feedback and how you can enhance your reputation by earning feedback ratings and stars.

Knowing your item

Knowing more about an item you're thinking of buying instills you with confidence that you're making the right choice:

- Read the item description thoroughly.
- Ask the seller specific questions if the description is unclear.

Many listings also include a picture that helps you in making a buying decision.

Knowing your payment options

Sellers offer a variety of payment methods that offer a range of ease and protection. Selecting a seller that offers a payment method that you are comfortable with using adds to your peace of mind. If you would like additional safety in the transaction, ask your seller to use escrow for the payment. This ensures that a third party holds your money until you receive the item.

Most credit card issuers provide 100% consumer protection in instances of online fraud or misrepresentation. In addition, PayPal offer additional protections for eBay purchases.

What to do if something goes wrong

It is rare that something goes wrong with a transaction, but if it does there are several avenues of recourse.

- Contacting your trading partner usually always resolves the matter - most buyers and sellers are honest and reliable, and often times it is a simple misunderstanding or lack of communication.
- If resolution can't be found, help from a third party mediator found through SquareTrade, our dispute resolution partner might be the answer.

Remember too that your credit card issuer, shipping insurance and eBay's Fraud Protection Program can help you recover funds lost in a

Hello Mr. Miles,

We are still trying to contact the seller about this case.

- We will continue our attempts at getting the other party to respond. We will notify you if we hear from them.
- If you have resolved the problem, please close the case.

What happens if the other party doesn't respond?

We will continue to notify the other party about your case. The other party will have 14 days to respond.

Your case is now being assigned to a Dispute Resolution Specialist. Feedback removal can ONLY be done if the Dispute Resolution Specialist has ensured that all of eBay's requirements are met. Step 4 - Agree to Mediation:

The other party has paid for a mediator to help resolve the dispute.

We strongly recommend you participate in mediation.

Mediation is:

- Absolutely free to you!
- Highly effective in settling the dispute
- Does not obligate you to settle in any way.

What Mediation Is - What Mediation Is Not

- ☒ Yes, I agree to mediate the case and engage in discussions with the other party with the help of a mediator.
- ☐ No, I will not participate in mediation even though there is no cost or obligation on me to resolve the problem in any particular way.

If you decline to mediate the case, your case will move into Direct Negotiation, whereby you and the other party can communicate directly to try to settle the problem without the assistance of a mediator.
